No More Dust.

VETERAN DUST EXTERMINATOR SWEEPING COMPOUND

is the successful result of years of diligent study and careful experiment. It is not a liquid, but is manufactured in granular form. An every day necessity, a luxury. It absorbs dirt and prevents it from rising during the process of sweeping. It makes bare floors clean and smooth, saves scrubbing, kills germs and germs, brightens up old carpets and rugs, obviates disastrous consequences of an inevitable cloud of dust while sweeping the old way.

Used on Floors, Tiles, Linoleums, Oil Cloths, Carpets and Rugs, and possesses properties that firmly grip the dust and dry cleans them.

Practically Indispensable for Dwellings, Offices, Stores, Warehouses, Public Buildings, Schools, Colleges, Hospitals, Churches, Theatres, Halls, Restaurants, Hotels, Factories or wherever microbe-infected dust accumulates on floor space.

It is inexpensive; pays for itself by saving hundreds of dollars in damaged goods each year, and it is guaranteed to do the work of exterminating dust.

Dust Breeds Consumption

Dust is extremely disagreeable as well as dangerous, everybody admits that and argument is unnecessary. Dust is destructive, hence the necessity of using a Sweeping Compound of Established reputation and dependable quality, being guaranteed Act septic and a Disinfectant.

Carpets, Rugs and Art Squares

Why take up carpets and beat them to pieces when the Veteran Dust Exterminator Sweeping Compound will gradually clean them where they are and bring back their original colors on the floor without taking them up?

This sweeping Compound does not lift the dust, but removes it from the fibers by absorption. No dust rises and sweeping becomes an unalloyed pleasure instead of dusty drudgery.

A Far Look.

Three visitors traveling in the Isle of Man thought they would visit Snaefell, the king of Manx mountains. When walking up toward the mountain they espied an old shepherd coming toward them. They thought they would take a rise out of him, so one accosted him, saying:

"They tell me, old man, you can see England, Scotland, Ireland and even as far as America from the top of this mountain."

"Oh, yes," said the old man. "If you will come with me I will show you much farther than America."

So, chuckling to themselves, they decided to follow him. After trudging for about half an hour up the mountain side in a boiling sun they began to feel rather fagged and kept asking the shepherd how much farther they had to go.

He kept urging them on a little farther until at last the three visitors lay down on the grass and said they would go no farther for any sight.

"Now," said the old man, "if you will sit here long enough you will see the moon."

Buried on His Horse.

Lord Dacre, who died fighting for the Lancastrians at Towton, England, in 1461, directed that if he were killed in the battle his favorite war horse should be buried in the same grave with him. According to his wishes, when his interment took place in Saxon churchyard after the battle a tremendous grave was dug, and in it the warrior was buried, seated upright on his horse. For centuries reflections were cast upon the accuracy of this tradition, but some years ago while excavations were being made close by the reputed burial place of Lord Dacre the pick of a digger struck into a great bone, and upon further search being made the skull of a big horse was brought to the surface. As this was found almost at the very spot under which the body of Lord Dacre was said to lie it was accepted as confirmation of the tradition, particularly as the skull was found to be standing vertically in the soil. The skull was replaced carefully in its original position and the excavation filled up.

Queer Creatures.

There are microscopic creatures which live in roof gutters and on the bark of trees and are known as water bears and wheel animalcules. If allowed to dry up under the microscope they can be seen to shrivel into shapeless masses, which may be kept for years unharmed in the dried state. On being placed, after this long interval, in water they gradually plump up, resume their proper shape and move about in search of food just as if nothing had happened. Much the same is true for the minute worms which, from the substances in which they live, are known as paste and vinegar eels. Well known is the famous case of the desert snail which, retracted into its shell, was fastened to a tablet in the British museum and showed no sign of life for seven years, when one morning it was found crawling hungrily about the glass case that formed its prison.—Westminster Gazette.

Saluting With the Hat.

Before the invention of wigs the hat was rarely removed except to salute others, especially royal personages. It was worn at table when ladies or persons of rank were present. Except when saluting royalty it was the custom merely to raise the hand to the hat somewhat after the manner of a military salute. When it became the mode to wear a profusion of false hair the hat was less needed as a protection for the head and was carried under the arm.

A Retiary.

A retiary was the name of a Roman gladiator armed in a peculiar way. He was furnished with a trident and net, with no more covering than a short tunic, and with these implements he endeavored to entangle and dispatch his adversary, who was called a secutor (from sequi, to follow) and was armed with a helmet, a shield and a sword. The name of the first is pronounced as it spelled re-shi-a-ry, the accent on the first syllable.

Improving on Euclid.

The Pioneer of Allahabad tells stories of some "kindergarten" classes in the English army. Among the definitions given in an examination is one of a circle peculiarly happy, which gives a freshness to Euclid. It is, "A straight line which starts at a certain point and gets back to the same point as quickly as possible."

Your Chances.

The little chances linger and return, but the great chances come and go and never come again. If we could look back over the lives of the people by whom we are surrounded, how many great and rich opportunities would we see that they have permitted to drift by them unimproved?

A Line on Bjerkyns.

Lawson—What sort of man is Bjerkyns, anyway?
Dawson—Well, his wife always goes with him when he buys a suit of clothes.—Somerville Journal.

The Consultation.

"My wife always consults me about every article of attire she buys—frocks, hats, shoes, gloves, everything."
"My wife does, too—that is, she asks me for the money."

Sartorial.

"Ever go to that tailor?"
"Yes. Most expensive man. I got two suits from him—a dress suit and a lawsuit."—Lippincott's.

Bright and Steady

The Rayo Lamp

A bright and steady light depends upon the construction of the lamp.

The best skill has put forth its best effort in perfecting the Rayo Lamp.

As the air is fed to the flame—so does the light burn. The easy-flowing current of air through the air-tube of the Rayo Lamp secures a uniform light, with never a flicker or flare.

The ideal family lamp. Made of brass throughout and beautifully nickel-plated.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp, but you cannot get a better lamp at any price.
